WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The state department today announced that the American-operated steamship S. S. Sessa was sunk by a torpedo about 300 miles southwest of Iceland on Aug. 17.

American warships have picked up three survivors of the crew of the vessel. Twenty-four members, including an American citizen, are unreported and "presumed lost."

The Sessa is a former Danish vessel taken over by the United States government. It was being operated by a New York Steamship Co. under Panama registry.

The department's announcement came less than 24 hours after disclosure that an unidentified bomber had sunk another American vessel, the Steel Seafarer, a freighter, in the Red Sea, with all hands rescued.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A great strategic plan to harass the Nazi forces attacking Russia and possibly to open up a new front against the Reich emerged today from the news that a seaborne expeditionary force of British, Canadian and Norwegian troops has seized Norway's Spitzbergen islands in the Arctic Circle.

Britain's war office, proclaiming the sudden coup that was carried out in utmost secrecy, announced that the Archipelago's valuable coal deposits now have been denied to the Germans.

Canadian forces occupied the islands with the assistance of British and Norwegian contingents. An eyewitness account revealed the Canadians made their first landings directly from warships.

Occupation of the islands was carried out with full approval of the Norwegian government, now in London.

Details of the precise strategic significance of the allied operation naturally remained a strict military secret. But the London Daily Express

Three Pilots In Eagle Squadron Lost In Battle

Americans Fight Overwhelming Odds In Sub-Stratosphere Conflict

FEAR ONE OF FLIERS
KILLED IN CRASH

Two Others, Forced To Jump, Are Probably Held As Nazi Prisoners

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Outnumbered four to one in a terrific battle with "swarms" of German planes in the sub-stratosphere, three pilots of the American Eagle squadron of the R. A. F. came to grief in Sunday's great fighter sweep of Germany and Nazi-occupied territories, it was learned today.

One of them—W. H. Nichols of San Carlos, Calif., is feared to have been killed.

The others—Hilbert Penlaw of Dallas, Tex., and Eugene Tobin of Los Angeles—are missing and are thought to have been captured.

In Eagle Squadron

All three were members of the "original" Eagle Squadron. Their loss in action represented the first serious setback for the crack American unit of the R. A. F.

Details of the dramatic engagement, which apparently took place over France, were difficult to obtain.

It was established, however, that the American pilots and accompanying squadrons of British planes and fighters suddenly found themselves "pinned" at from all directions by scores of brand new German Messerschmitt fighters.

The planes at the time were at an altitude of 25,000 feet, carrying out their scheduled operations in what was termed "the usual official manner."

Caught In Pocket

The Eagle pilots caught in a pocket, suffered heavily in the first few minutes of a wild dog-fight which took place as they tried to work their way back to the English Channel and away from overwhelming odds.

Nichols, caught between the fire of two cannoning Messerschmitts, was last seen diving to attack. His

He dealt with his Atlantic meeting with President Roosevelt, the situation in Russia, the battle of the ocean, the middle eastern campaigns and Britain's lightning occupation of Spitzbergen. While he rethorized his hearers with flights of oratory as he spoke glowingly of Britain's position compared with a year ago and he concluded with the words:

"We may say aloud before an awe-struck world: 'We are still masters of our fate; we still are captains of our soul!'"

Guard Against Voting Disorder

Despite Light Vote Allegheny County Authorities Take Precautions

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Sultry weather greeted an apathetic Allegheny county electorate today as voters in this and other western Pennsylvania counties started to the polls to nominate a host of candidates for local offices.

Despite the prospects of a light vote, Allegheny county authorities "took no chances" on possible polling place disorder by passing court of ballot boxes to the common pleas court. Election Director David M. Olbum advised the court in a petition that the department would welcome appointment of "guards" where the motives of the election board or voters is under suspicion.

The county grand jury will sit all day to hear charges of fraud or irregularities, and common pleas court judges will sit, in relays, to hear polling disputes.

Although eight judges, sheriff, coroner, jury commissioner, county surveyor and city councilmen figured in the nominations, chief priority was in the Republican primary with George D. Wick the county GOP's choice for the mayoralty nomination opposed by Harman D. Denny, former public safety director.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Discouraging German claims that Leningrad is completely surrounded, British and Russian authorities expressed belief today that the next four weeks will decide the fate of the great northern Soviet city which once was Russia's capital under the czars.

This brief period, they predicted, will show whether Leningrad is to become "another Madrid."

One spokesman in close touch with the military situation declared:

"The situation depends first on whether the Germans want to capture the city relatively intact or are willing to destroy it in order to occupy it."

Secondly, it depends on whether the morale, equipment and supplies at Leningrad are equal to the demands.

No one in London knows whether the Germans are ready to wreck Leningrad in order to capture it. But it was admitted that completely destructive German land and air

The other offices include a judge for Lawrence county, a district attorney, a sheriff, register and recorder, two jury commissioners, two city councilmen, a city controller and three school directors. WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Diplomatic tension between the United States and the Axis powers mounted rapidly today as a result of the sinking in the Red Sea of the American freighter Steel Seafarer by an unidentified plane believed to have been either German or Italian.

Word was flashed to the state department during the night from American Minister Alexander Kirk at Cairo, Egypt, that the 5,718-ton merchantman, operated by the Isthmian Line out of New York, was sent to the bottom Sunday by an aerial torpedo.

See New Crisis

A serious new crisis in relations between the United States and Germany is foreseen in official quarters in Washington if the plane eventually is identified as a German bomber.

News of the sinking of the Seafarer came at a time when the United States government was actively considering the issuance of a strong warning to Germany in connection with the incident involving the American Destroyer U.S.S. Greer in the North Atlantic.

Sunk By British While Convoying German Supply Ship

BERLIN ANNOUNCES SINKING OF VESSEL

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Sep. 9.—Loss of the German artillery training ship Bremse was announced by the German high command today.
A war communiqué said the 1,400-ton vessel was sunk in Norwegian waters in a clash with superior British naval forces while it was conveying a German supply ship.
According to the announcement, the Bremse went down in the waters off Northern Norway.
The armament of the Bremse at the time consisted of four 127-centimeter guns and two anti-aircraft machine guns, the announcement stated.

Crew Of 192
It carried a crew of 192 men.
The communiqué said that under considerations of poor visibility the Bremse encountered unexpectedly a British cruiser and two destroyers.
The Bremse attacked the British units, the bulletin stated, to enable the German supply ship to escape.
Eventually, it was stated, the Bremse was hit by several torpedoes and went down.
Part of the crew was declared to have been rescued.

Fourth, a large number of purely technical matters.
"The fact the Anglo-American declaration was a united one sets up a milestone or monument which needs only one stroke of victory to become a permanent part of the history of human progress.
In a lengthy review of the war situation, Churchill spoke with confidence of British and American efforts to stem further Japanese moves in the Far East, emphasized the "urgent" need of aid to Soviet Russia and warned that American supplies to Britain would therefore diminish.

The American navy is doing much to hamper German operations and in driving the enemy "from one beat to another."

"This has been a help to us," he said, "but I wish it could be a greater help."

"The magnificent resistance of the Russian armies means that the Germans in the last three months have lost more blood than in any single year of the last war. The Germans are now certain of having to maintain their armies through the Russian winter from the Arctic to the Black Sea," Churchill said.

Battle Of Atlantic
With regard to the battle of the Atlantic:

"Sinkings of British and Allied ships in July and August did not amount to much more than one-third the Italian-German tonnage sunk by Allied aircraft and submarines."

"The enemy is being driven from one beat to another. It must be remembered the Germans are being hampered in one American part of the Atlantic by fear of trouble with the powerful American naval forces which ceaselessly patrol the approaches to the Western Hemisphere. This has been a help to us, but I wish it could be a greater help."

Churchill warned it would be foolish to say the battle of the Atlantic has already been won, as the enemy is making greater efforts each day.

There will be William Plog, superintendent of the Roosevelt ancestral estate, who had worked 45 years for the president's Patriotic Fund. Present also will be Charles Van Keuren, 41 years in her service, and his wife Mary and his daughter, Alma. There will be Louis Dewey, her chauffeur for 23 years; Robert McCaughey, butler for 19 years, and his wife Isabelle; Kate Jennings, her personal maid; Mary Campbell, the cook; George Kaim, another butler, and John De Groff and Raymond Smith, men of the field.

plane apparently blew up under the impact of a high-explosive Nazi shell.

Tobin, well-known throughout the R. A. F. as one of the few Americans to beat back the Luftwaffe in the "battle of Britain" a year ago, had his engine knocked out early in the fight. The same happened to Fenwick.

Both planes were compelled to drop out of the engagement. One of the two pilots was seen to parachute immediately, and the other is believed to have jumped later. It has not been established whether they reached safety—and inevitable custody.

By this time the fighting efficiency of the R. A. F. had gained a temporary upper hand and the remainder of the squadron succeeded in withdrawing from the engagement. On the way home, however, another Eagle plane, manned by a pilot this far unidentified, gave way as the result of heavy punishment suffered and had to be brought down in a crash landing at 200 miles an hour somewhere in the English countryside.

Results of the bitter battle brought to seven the number of casualties suffered by American Eagle pilots.

bombardments might force a decision and enable the Nazis to enter a smoking ghostlike city of the dead.

Costly To Germans
On the other hand these same experts say they believe that such intensive warfare would prove extremely costly for the Germans and yield them a "pyrrhic victory—a ruined city."

As for Leningrad's equipment and morale, informed military quarters in London asserted that Leningrad would be able to withstand a two-year siege.

The city is equipped with water purifying processes in the event its reservoirs are befouled, the majority of its women and children already have been evacuated and thus milk is not essential, and there are plenty of canned goods, potatoes and cabbage on hand to last through this winter.

One expert explained the situation this way: "Certainly the morale of Leningrad is equal to that of Madrid which withstood the siege of the Spanish Nationalists."

"And Leningrad's supplies of food and war equipment are far better."

RUMANIANS LOSE 20,000 TROOPS SAYS MOSCOW REPORT on the central front and indicated remnants of the shattered Nazi divisions were fleeing under ceaseless ground and air attacks after a 26-day battle.

Capture of the strategic town of Yelna about 45 miles southeast of Smolensk was claimed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: An official announcement at Berlin asserted concentrated Luftwaffe attacks inflicted extremely heavy losses on the retreating Soviet columns caught between the German and Finnish lines on the northern front, south of Lake Ladoga.

German fighting planes were declared to have sunk two Soviet Mosquito boats and two transport vessels totaling 6,000 tons in the Baltic Sea off Oesel Island, while another transport was said to have been damaged.

"Leningrad Not Encircled"
According to information in Moscow, German forces attacking the Leningrad defenses have not yet encircled Russia's second largest city but have approached "fairly close" from the southwest.

Soviet advisers stated, however, that the Nazis were not yet near enough the city for "practical, large-scale shelling."

On the opposite end of the great Russo-German front, according to the Soviet (Tass) news agency, all German and Rumanian attempts to penetrate the defenses of the Black Sea port of Odessa have been "shattered."

Stating that heavy fighting continued along the entire front, the high command communique said:

press said it was part of a plan which includes harrying the German forces attacking Russia.

The Express added that particular importance was attached to the landing by British quarters and that Prime Minister Winston Churchill is expected to give further details to parliament as soon as he can fit the raid into a general review of the progress of the war.

The military critic of the London News Chronicle pointed out that the Spitzbergen mines are capable of producing half a billion tons of bunker coal a year and that this coal also is suitable for oil distillation.

In addition, iron ore, zinc and asbestos are mined on the islands.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

LOOKING AHEAD FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

If you who are high school students could live for about two weeks twenty-five years in the future, and then bring yourself back to where you are this autumn, beginning the new school year, these are some of the resolutions you would make and strive to carry through:

I will develop in myself regular habits of study so that my school work will be successful.
I will do my home study each evening before bedtime. I know how easy it is to entertain my friends on evenings and to go out; but if I am going to measure up to what I expect of myself I must put my studies first.

I know how easy it is to fool around in the evening before going to work and how easy it is to put off assignments from evening to evening and week to week. I will set myself to study by the clock and I am going to make myself hand in every piece of written work on the date announced by the teacher.

Earl Self-Respect
I want to earn my self-respect. Therefore, I will make it a habit to do my work and not be a parasite on some other pupil by copying his work and handing it in as my own.

I will make good use of my time in the recreation period. If I keep my eyes and ears open I can make my learning easier and cut down my study time. I must train myself not to day-dream but to keep my attention on what is going on in class.

When I leave class I will measure my success not by my luck when called upon by the teacher but by the number of questions asked and problems put by the teacher which I could have answered accurately or solved correctly.

I will work for habits of accuracy and precision for I know it will pay savings in time from future errors and annoyance and helping me to work with greater speed and ease.

Good Speech
I will cultivate good speech and good writing so that I can be happier, can be more likable and can find more opportunities to succeed as I grow older.

I will make up my mind about my vocation, learning all I can about the several things which appeal to me, and then set my heart and soul on one of them.

I will engage in one of several school sports, learn some group games and activities, join a club at school, acquire some accomplishments which will make my leisure hours more enjoyable, and learn to mingle happily with groups of pupils during recreation hours.

I will set myself to some good reading, learning to enjoy the best reading some aloud in order to enrich my vocabulary and have more things to talk about.

I will care for my health, get enough sleep and out-of-door recreation and eat proper food.
Solving Parent Problems
Q. My boy, eight, will go to school with dirty hands, ears and neck if I don't wash them myself.
A. Stop washing him. Merely inspect and see that he does not leave the house until he measures up.

What Noted People Say

TRINIDAD, N. Y.—Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota predicts that soon Britain will ask the U. S. for another seven billion dollars: "John Bull is in Uncle Sam's trousers now. In a little while you are going to see Uncle Sam without trousers."

WASHINGTON—Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson warns that the administration needs legislative checks on inflation: "Greater powers are needed if we are to prevent runaway inflation. Every day brings further increases in food, clothing and other necessities, and the pressure on the price structure."

ATLANTIC CITY—Rosemary La Plante, Miss America of 1941, reveals her "beauty secret": "Why I just wash my face two or three times a day with soap and water and mother washes my hair once a week—that's all there is to it."

Just Folks

MYSTERY
I'm puzzled by the ways of death. When wrinkles pass me by. Still wasting all the hours of breath. And not allowed to die.

And when some lovely gracious soul Of which the world has need Is summoned to its Heavenly goal The reason's hard to read.

And tempted off my though to give When death has ventured nigh I wonder why some cannot live And others cannot die.

But though at what Death says must be My head in doubt I shake, I'm glad it does not fall to me So grave a choice to make.

The situation in the Pacific is now so grave that any sinking of an American ship might require two apologies.

Democracy fails in diplomacy. You can bluff if the others have hole cards and all of yours are showing.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:20. Sun rises tomorrow 5:36.

We heard a chap say he did not like to make public speeches any more, because he had not made any for a long time. That suits us.

Often the problem child is the one who has the nerve to figure things out for himself.

A lot of things taste good when one does not have to eat them while on a diet.

OLD, BUT GOOD
Sept. 4, 1941.

Gentlemen: Here's a bit of spice for your column.

"Just His Own"
A newspaper publisher offered a prize for the best answer to the conundrum:

"Why is a newspaper like a woman?"
The prize was won by a woman who sent in this answer:
"Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbors."

"Grats!"

These days we don't hear so much about the stone age as we do the morgia-age.

The man who invented the sport shirt did not like neckties.

A woman riding in a New Jersey bus was hit by a suitcase falling from a rack and sued the operators for $100,000. The jury gave her $25,000, a verdict the court voided on the grounds that the jurors were too full of sympathy.

Some men grow with responsibilities—others just bloat.

An actress was denied a license to perform in Providence, R. I., because it was feared she wouldn't keep her promise to keep her clothes on. Big crowd disappointed.

It is not always possible to cover up a weak argument with a loud voice.

Old Babe, the horse that Mrs. Eva Holwald drove the streets of Orange, N. J., for 27 years was put to death yesterday at the age of 32. His recipe for longevity was eating one apple each day and chewing all the tobacco he wanted.

A W.P.A. laborer was leaning on his shovel when a mouse ran over his foot. He said:
"You little so-and-so, if I had another shovel, I'd kill you."

Do what you can with what you have.

It depends how hard we try to forget the past, what kind of a lesson it teaches.

A good set of tonsils these days don't last a fellow any longer than his baby teeth.

GOT UP AND WALKED

Here is an old story rekindled. At an old folks' home, where I live, I was suddenly and severely stricken by some unknown trouble. It was necessary that someone assist me to my room. Several of my old friends—one at a time—called on me, with sympathy. After hearing my story all of them told their stories about aches and pains. All were worse than mine. When the sympathetic nurse called on me I said:

"I am not sick, but all of my friends who called to see me are much worse off than I am." I got up from my bed and walked to the dining room and ate a hearty meal—A. C. R.

HOW OLD IS ANY?
It used to be that you could tell about a woman's age by the way she dressed, but now you have to see her start a car to tell.

If she backs the car out with a roar, slams it into first and shoots the gas to it strong and gets away in a flash—you can bet your bottom dollar she is a holdover from the model T days. They used to have to do it to pull out of the mud with weak old model T power.

If she knows how to adjust the carburetor to take up the engine strain at starting, backs out quietly, eases into first and so on to high gently—she is a modern miss.

In many hotels they do not want people to give their titles when they register, except in the case of a doctor. They want to know who to call when a doctor is needed, so they ask the doctors to give their title. Dr. "Some bear that title who would be no good if they were called."

More new telephones were installed in August this year than have been installed in any month in history. More talk all the time.

In many foreign countries when some guys are suspected of spying, their heads are cut off or they face a firing squad right away. In this country we let them out on bail.

Don't make Wilson's mistake. Mr. President. Hell hath no fury like a Senator left out of conferences.

Our guess is that women won't like cotton stockings any better because they irritate lace curtains.

The Reds needn't worry. Every time they lose an important position in Russia, they gain one in America.

In some sections the host serves the plates, but the only advantage is that chicken wings aren't left over.

Hereafter Pennsylvania will have only 33 congressmen instead of 34. We might make it even less and not suffer.

A great trouble in this country today is that too many people talk about things they know little or nothing about.

Advice we get often costs nothing, but the advice we pay for costs us plenty.

Peace is a lovely period when you can express any kind of opinion and nobody gives a darn.

You can measure the degree of an emergency by how little it takes to make people mad at one another.

They say a policeman arrested a man for drunkenness because he put a penny in a gum machine looked at his watch and exclaimed, "Gosh, I've lost 14 pounds!"

Possibly we have invented too many modern methods of raising hell. And having them, there comes the temptation to try them out. More than ever before, it begins to look as if civilization will have to do something about civilization.

The Devil wasn't smart in trying to break Job's morale. All he needed was an army camp and thirty rainy days.

Photos Of Duke's Visit Suppressed
British Flag Was Draped Upside Down
Funny Incidents Recalled By Stewart

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—No picture of the Duke of Kent's visit to the National Press club, as an incident of his visit in Washington not long ago, are available.

The duke, as I suppose most folk know, is the king of Edward's brother. His recent trip to our side of the Atlantic was undertaken in connection with western hemisphere aid to his embattled home country. After dropping in at Hyde Park to see President Roosevelt, who was Sundaying there, he accompanied F. D. to our capital, to dine at the White House and see the sights.

Among other things, he wanted to meet Washington newspaper correspondents, thinking it would be good publicity for John Bull.

The board of governors promptly invited him to meet em in the Press club lounge. It was an ideal arrangement. The duke accepted it delightedly. The club management rushed to fix up the lounge appropriately. A comfortable sofa was backed up into a corner, facing the grace's occupancy, and the scribes gathered to interview him.

The British colors (Union Jack) were provided to drape on the wall, just above and behind the seated and distinguished guest's head.

The event was pulled off in great style. Several photos of it were shot. Then why aren't they available for publication now? Why, the fact is that they were suppressed.

Washington simply was ransacked for the negatives. Apparently the seekers for em found em all and destroyed em in hot haste. I can't discover that one of em remains.

Why? If it was publicity the duke wanted it would seem as if those pictures in print, should have been hot stuff.

Yes, but what the duke wanted was publicity of the RIGHT KIND. Those pictures scarcely would have filled the bill.

Upside Down

The secret is that the club attendant who draped the Union Jack, not being familiar with the British colors, inadvertently draped the flag bottom side up.

Now, a country's flag (our own, Britain's or any other nation's) floating upside down is a recognized signal of distress. Considering Britain's present fix and the purpose of the duke's visit on this side of the water to stir up American all-aid to John Bull, that distress signal not only was appropriate, it was too DARNED appropriate to be suitably advertised.

Hence no photographs. Hence no funny things happened.

For instance, does the reader recall the recent attempt, in Tokio, to assassinate Vice Premier Kichiro Hiramuna, a Jap statesman who has been antagonistic to his country's tie-up with the European Axis? Well, it was attempted anyway, and the other day I noticed a Tokio dispatch to the effect that news of it "leaked out prematurely."

That is to say, it leaked out before the attempt was made. In other words, the night before the vice premier was shot at, an Axis correspondent at the Japanese capital called up the police to inquire if Minister Hiramuna had been killed completely dead.

The cable remarked that this newspaperman has been under close surveillance ever since. The prospective would-be assassin evidently was slow on his job.

Some laughs also are created by the Moscow story that Herr Hitler, at his last conference with Benito, Mussolini, "appealed" to Benito to help the Nazis with more Italian soldiers on the Nazis' Russian front. "Appealed?" Any time Adolf wants anything from Benito, Washington's reckoning is that he issues it as an order—not that he hands it out as an appeal.

"In The Potomac"

Other smiles originate on the strength of the news that Jap Premier Fumimaro Konoye has been trying to arrange a personal meeting with President Roosevelt on a Japanese warship somewhere in the Pacific. The nub of the job is that the Japs are so notoriously imitative of Occidental ways. It's taken as a fair conclusion that following F. D.'s chat in the Atlantic with Winston Churchill, Fumimaro's dying wish was that Secretary Hull told him F. D.'s willing enough to confer, but that he'd rather do it in the Potomac than "somewhere in the Pacific."

Getting back to the subject of flags—Herr Hitler's said to be cooking one up consisting of a blend of the flags of all the nationalities he considers assimilating with the Nazi emblem predominating, of course.

Washington's National Press club would like to see how that combination would look draped bottom side up.

Words Of Wisdom

The child taught to believe any occurrence a good or evil omen, on any day of the week lucky, hath a wide inroad made upon the soundness of his understanding.—Watts.

Hints On Etiquette

Dry cake, cookies, etc., may be properly eaten with the fingers. Even when a fork is served with pound cake it may be eaten with the fingers.

Officials tell us the birth rate is rising in America. This indicates that the new generation isn't so smart, after all.

The World and the Mud Puddles

HAVE MUCH FAITH

Some readers ask us what the future holds. What they are wondering about is not so much whether Britain will lose the war; how much Congress may raise taxes; whether corporations will be permitted to earn reasonable profits in our war economy, but something else.

What disturbs them is deeper and broader. They are wondering about the social system itself—the organization of human society and of economic activity in the world to come.

We cannot resolve their doubts and fears. The future for our social, political and economic system is an unwritten book. We ourselves await the writing of it with some misgiving. All we know is what comes to pass in the United States, as well as in most other nations, will depend in considerable degree upon the duration and outcome of the war and its resultant social and economic dislocations.

But when reason fails us, what about simple faith?

We don't know how or when this war will end, but we have faith that it will not end in irretrievable disaster for America or for the English-speaking races. We have faith that no people of any race will be subject to permanent enslavement of body or mind.

The revolution set loose from Europe is not the "wave of the future," but a modernized, brutalized backwash of ancient tyranny. For countless centuries the real wave of the future has been the ceaseless struggle of men of all races to break the hold of despotic rulers and expand their freedoms and opportunities. We have faith that this strongest of human aspirations cannot be nullified.

We have faith in America and the American people. They are unique not alone in material strength. Of all major nations, we have long had by far the oldest and most strongly established tradition of political, social and economic freedom.

We have faith that the American people will never of free choice discard the essential framework of this system and this way of life. And we have faith that no external force can ever master enough power to make us do so.

HAPPYGRAMS

by ERICH BRANDEIS

The Bureau of Census has just issued a bulletin showing that women live longer than men.

The average for women is 64.5 years; for men, 60.6 years.

The average life span for all persons in the United States has increased nearly 13 years since the turn of the century.

It is not shown why women live longer than men. One of the reasons is probably that women don't state their right ages and so it takes them longer to reach 65.

Men, in the other hand, have to hustle so hard for a living nowadays that in 60 years they have really lived 70.

The main thing, however, is to enjoy living while you live—the statistics will get you in the end anyway.

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

(Compiled by Encyclopaedia Britannica)

SEPTEMBER 9

1823—Joseph Leidy, scientist, at Philadelphia. He won distinction as an anatomist, especially in the field of comparative anatomy. His "Elementary Treatise on Human Anatomy" was for many years the classic American textbook. His chief fame, however, was won as a vertebrate paleontologist. His "Extinct Mammalian Fauna of Dakota and Nebraska" has been described as the most important paleontological work which America has produced, with the possible exception of Cope's "Tertiary Vertebrates."

1868—Mary Hunter Austin, novelist and essayist, at Carlisle, Ill. She lived in New Mexico for many years and became the friend and chronicler of Indian tribes in that territory. Her first book, "The Land of Little Rain," brought her immediate renown in 1903. Among her other notable books are "The Basket Woman," "Lost Borders" and "The Arrow Maker."

1887—Alfred Mossman Landon, governor of Kansas and Republican candidate for president, at West Middlesex, Pa. After accumulating a fortune in the oil industry, he was elected governor of Kansas in 1933. He was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1936. He carried only two states, Maine and Vermont.

Bullet Proof Gas Tanks Aid Pilots In War

American Engineer Does Much To Perfect And Improve
Fighting Planes

(International News Service)
DETROIT—Fighting plane pilots, who before recent development of self-sealing gas tanks often went down in flames when bullets struck their gas supply, owe much to Ernest Egers, United States Rubber company engineer.

Increasing aerial warfare and the heavy casualties resulting from it turned the research of Egers' ingenious mind to development of efficient, practical and readily-available protection against enemy machine gun fire.

Lack of time prevented engineers from seeking new gas tank structure. Egers in cooperation with his company invented the tank "blanket," which could be wrapped around the containers already in use. Within six weeks, his nurtured plans for a self-sealing gasoline tank were turned to reality when production hit its stride.

Bullet Proof Tank
That problem conquered, Egers turned to development of a bullet proof tank. Travelling 70,000 miles in a single year to confer with air-plane and government officials, Egers finally, after testing 888 materials against actual gunfire, succeeded.

Testing on the company's firing range, he found his tank would take nine 30-caliber bullets without igniting or losing contents. Still a better answer was sought.

Today at Los Angeles, Mishawaka and Detroit plants self-sealing gasoline tanks are being produced. In Detroit, expanded facilities enable 3,000 units to be produced per month. The new tanks will take not only 30-caliber, but 50-caliber bullets and retain fuel.

Egers is at work on another problem. It too may save many lives.

Council Deplores Veto Of Bill By Governor On Gas Tax Refund

Council, at the meeting Monday, adopted a resolution presented by Director of Improvements William H. Dunlap deploring the action of Governor Arthur A. James in vetoing a bill which, if favored by the governor, would have resulted in third-class cities securing a share of state gasoline tax.

According to Dunlap, 62.9 per cent of the cars in Lawrence county are registered as being owned in New Castle, yet the city receives no gasoline tax refund.

The resolution, which will be sent to Third-Class Cities League officials, follows:

WHEREAS, statistics show that the City of New Castle had from the fiscal year 1940 car registrations equal to 62.9 per cent of the total registrations of the county of Lawrence, from the proceeds of which registrations and the gas tax paid thereon the said City received nothing;

WHEREAS, the Legislature of 1941 enacted with only one negative vote in the Senate, and unanimously in the House, Senate bill No. 298 which would have given to said City some portion of the gasoline tax collected from its citizens and thereby helped to relieve the local tax burden; and

WHEREAS, the Governor saw fit to veto said bill on the ground that the Cities are receiving and can receive substantial sums from the county's share of gasoline tax, and that monies spent by the Highway Department on state highways in cities of the third-class benefits such cities; and

WHEREAS, such returns if and when made are infinitesimal when compared with the contributions made by the Cities;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE Council of the City of New Castle that the action of the Governor in his veto of Senate bill No. 298, is greatly to be deplored as unfair and unjust to the municipalities of the state; more particularly so as large sums of money from said funds are paid and approved by the Governor to the counties and townships of the second-class, which organization likewise enjoyed the benefits cited by the Governor in his veto as accruing to the Cities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the officials of the League of Cities of the Third-Class continue to gather information as to receipts and expenditures of gasoline tax funds and present the same to the next legislative session; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the question of fair and equitable treatment to the Cities and other municipalities of the state be brought to the attention of the political committees of the State of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of having a pledge of a reasonable allotment of gasoline tax funds in relief of local taxation included in the party platforms; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution, when signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Clerk, be forwarded to the Governor and also to the president of the League of Cities of the Third Class, to be by him presented to the Governor and to the Republican and Democratic state committees, together with the resolution adopted at the convention of the League of Cities of the Third Class, at Hazleton.

Senator Nye Makes Accusations Against U. S. Movie Industry

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Sen. Nye (R) N. D., today accused the giant American movie industry of issuing propaganda pictures to "soften" the nation for war.

In a militant mood, the non-interventionist, first witness in a Senate Interstate Commerce Subcommittee hearing, declared in a statement prepared for delivery, that new pictures are being made "that will play a part in making Americans more ready to send their sons abroad."

He urged the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Clark (D) Ida., to recommend that the senate authorize a full investigation into movie and radio propaganda. The hearing is based upon a resolution by Nye and Sen. Clark (D) Mo., calling for a general inquiry.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM, Sept. 9.—Finnish troops today seized a 130,000 kilowatt power station on the Svir river which supplies electricity to Leningrad, according to word received in Stockholm. The plant is located at Koukku.

Meanwhile, newspaper opinion in Helsinki was divided as to whether Finnish forces should advance beyond the Svir. The Helsinki Sanomat and the Uusi Suomi took the attitude that Leningrad actually lies within historic Finnish territory, but more modest Nationalist papers recommended considering the Svir as Finland's new frontier.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Sept. 9.—Acting Clearfield County Coroner Dr. E. S. Erhard was a busy man today, and it wasn't the elections that kept him on the go so much either. Within a space of 12 hours, he was called out to investigate four deaths.

IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

How to borrow cash quickly and simply and repay in monthly installments which fit your own income

CAN YOU make good use of $100? Investigate our loan plans today. Household Finance offers three simple ways for you to borrow up to $300. Your loan will be made the way which best suits your own situation.

1. Signature loans. No security needed. These loans are made, under proper conditions, to both single persons and married couples.

2. Auto loans. A loan on your car may fit your needs.

3. Furniture loans. Here character and regular income are far more important than the value of your security. Many borrowers use this plan.

No endorsers needed.

Whichever way you borrow, it is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get the loan you need simply, privately and speedily.

You may repay your loan in convenient monthly installments as shown in the table. Monthly installments of $9.75 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. Or as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay $100.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. It's good business to compare rates before you borrow.

If you need money, here's what to do. Come to Household. Or just phone and say you need a loan. We're here to serve you. Phone or visit us today without obligation.

Plan To Increase Farm Production

Secretary Of Agriculture
Announces Plan For Mobilizing Agriculture

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A nationwide program to mobilize American agriculture for the increased production of foods for national defense and for those nations resisting aggression was announced Monday by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

Slated for expansion of production are hogs, eggs, evaporated milk, dry-skim milk, cheese and chickens, the secretary said. He added that the agriculture department would support prices for these commodities at not less than 85 per cent of parity until Dec. 31, 1942.

At four regional conferences to be called during September, farmers and farm leaders will discuss methods for properly balancing crop production with the diversified needs of national defense, and for expanded production of crops needed by embattled Britain, Russia and China.

The meetings will be held in Salt Lake City, Sept. 15-16; Chicago, Sept. 18-19; New York City, Sept. 24-25 and Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29-30.

According to Wickard's announcement, the vast program is based on surveys of the nation's entire agricultural situation. It not only provides for maintaining price levels at 85 per cent of parity and assuming that no farm production is out of line with needs, but is designed to avoid the chaotic conditions in agriculture which occurred after the last war due to over-expanded production.

"For the first time in the history of agriculture in this country," the secretary said, "production goals for all essential farm commodities have been established. They have been established on the basis of a thorough canvass of the needs for improved nutrition in this country and the needs of the nations that still stand between this country and Hitler."

Rat Reduction Method Invented
Novel Method To Reduce Rat Population Is Advocated By Mitchell

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Ed. W. Mitchell, who conducts a farm radio forum, has advanced a novel method of exterminating rats to the state department of agriculture. The method is as follows:

"Place a brick and about four inches of water in a 50-gallon barrel. Cover the top of the barrel with heavy paper across which has been cut a large 'X'. Hang a bait across the cross.

"The first rat will fall through the cut in the paper and will then scramble to the brick to keep out of the water. When two rats fall through, they will fight for a place on the brick. As more rats are attracted to the bait, they will all plunge into the barrel, consequently reducing the rodent population."

NUMEROUS HOLES IN AIRPORT RUNWAYS
Like many black-top highways, the hard-surfaced runways at the New Castle Airport have developed numerous holes and are now in need of attention.

Red flags dot the entire distance of both runways, marking the holes to prevent fliers from striking the holes and causing accidents.

Some black-top patching material would greatly help this situation, it is believed.

Cyprus Is Now Well Fortified

By KENNETH DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, Sept. 9.—I am able to reveal today that the Island of Cyprus, vital bastion in the eastern Mediterranean, is now another British Island fortress, invasion of which would require a military undertaking of tremendous proportions.

Only two months ago many persons feared Cyprus was doomed to the way of Crete. But with amazing speed and secrecy Cyprus has been transformed from an almost defenseless pastoral isle into a formidable armed camp during the brief period since the fall of Crete.

The great strategic importance of this achievement is indicated by the fact that three British middle east war leaders—red-haired, energetic Minister of State Oliver Lyttleton, Gen. Claude Auchinleck, commander of British forces in the middle east and Air Marshall Tedder—have just completed a flying three-day inspection of the island's defenses.

Alleged Attacker Waives Hearing In Lock Haven Court

Held For October Term Of Court On Charges Of Attacking Girls

(International News Service)
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Hoy K. Houck, 21-year-old former orchestra leader and alleged confessed attacker of eight young women in central Pennsylvania, waived a hearing before Alderman T. Mark Brunyard Monday afternoon and was held for the October term of Clinton County court.

Houck, member of a respectable Bellefonte family, was formally charged with assault and battery against Ruth Andrews, 19, Lock Haven, and assault and battery with intent to maintain and aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill Emily Williams, 28, Jersey shore school teacher.

Miss Williams was beaten over the head with a wrench and her skull smashed August 1.

Houck listened impassively as his attorney, former Judge James C. Furst, Bellefonte, announced that he would waive hearing.

The accused assailant was returned immediately to his cell for extended questioning in connection with other assaults against women in Clinton and Centre counties in the past year.

District Attorney Musser W. Gettler of Centre County intimated that he would press similar charges against Houck in six cases involving Centre County women, in which the suspect has allegedly figured.

Says Turnpike Is Making Money

Reports $2,600,000 Is Received During First Eleven Months

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Chairman Walter A. Jones of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Monday challenged the accuracy of criticism aimed at the superhighway during a state convention of hotelmen in Philadelphia last week.

Replying to the attack of E. S. Shuck, president of the Central Pennsylvania Hotels Association, Jones said:

"Ordinarily, attacks by certain interests upon the turnpike can be ignored, but I can not allow the financial position of the commission to be questioned, especially since there are no grounds for such an attack.

"The Pennsylvania turnpike earned more than enough in the 11 months of operation since last October 1 to pay interest on the bonds, and to meet the cost of operation for the first year. Any statement that the Pennsylvania turnpike is losing money is false.

"Equally false was the statement that the turnpike is losing tourist business for the state. The turnpike is not only making money for itself, but for the state as a whole, by attracting hundreds of thousands of tourists who would not otherwise come into the state."

Jones pointed out that the turnpike earned over $2,600,000 up to the end of August, adding that the travel over the Labor Day week end brought the total more than the $2,670,000 originally estimated as being necessary to meet all costs for the year.

District State For Post-Defense Work

Five Districts Formed To Plan Programs For Future Needs

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—In anticipation of a post-defense boom slack, Kaye Hunter, Plymouth Meeting architect and engineer, has been appointed by John M. Carmody, head of the federal works agency, Washington, to head the Pennsylvania headquarters of the public works reserve program.

"Five districts will be formed in Pennsylvania," Hunter said, "each with a corps of planning engineers and analysts who will contact, advise and assist all local state and federal governmental units in planning and budgeting programs of work for the next five, six or 10 years."

"Capital improvements and public services, amounting to millions of dollars, although needed now, are meeting delays in favor of the defense program. It is therefore imperative to list the stored-up work in the order of necessity and desirability to form the basis for a program of work in future years."

Defense Workers Live In Trailers

Model Trailer Camp Is Laid Out In Philadelphia Park

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Pembroke Park, a creation of the farm security administration, came to life when defense workers' families moved into the neat trailer colony on the west bank of the Lehigh river, right across the busy Bethlehem Steel company.

The park, three blocks by four blocks in size, features streets, walks of crushed stone, sewers and tap water. Every one of the family-sized trailers (four persons) is on a 25-foot lot. Family facilities are provided by 19 other trailers, offering showers and laundries. After work recreation is provided on an adjacent field as large as the colony area.

Place Monument Over Time Capsule

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—In order that the people of 6941 won't have any trouble in finding the "time capsule," planted in 1939 on the world's fair site, the park department has erected a monument of black granite over the burial spot.

The capsule contains "relics" from our civilization, and is sealed to withstand the elements for 5,000 years. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia will officiate today in ceremonies dedicating the granite marker.

Rescue Squad Gets Many Calls

Since the New Castle fire department mobile unit was put into use a month ago, members of the rescue squad have answered an average of one call a day, figures disclosed today.

The force started functioning on August 9. To date, the organization has answered 30 calls.

On two occasions, the squad applied the necessary treatment to persons who suffered broken legs.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Pennsylvania voters went to the polls in the statewide primary today with their attention riveted chiefly on local intra-party fights involving organization control.

Political observers anticipated that less than 50 per cent of the state's 4,789,000 registered voters would cast ballots as a result of public apathy reflected in the campaign. Polls were open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. D. S. T.

Struggle For Party Control
Interest in struggles for the control of party machinery in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and in a large majority of the counties overshadowed that centered in statewide contests for high judicial nominations.

In addition to selecting candidates for county offices, including judgeships, voters of both parties went to pick nominees for justice of the state supreme court and judge of the superior court.

Common Pleas Judge W. Russell Carr of Fayette county was expected to win over Judge Samuel E. Shull, Monroe county, for the Democratic nomination for supreme court, while Judge Michael A. Musmanno of Allegheny county was favored to defeat Paul W. Mahady of Westmoreland county for the superior court nomination.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

As the days grow cooler, carbon monoxide grows deadlier.

This gas is one of the most insidious of poisons.

Carbon monoxide creeps up on a person without warning.

It has no odor, no color and no compassion.

On reaching the lungs, it displaces oxygen in the body.

The victim may sense a muscular weakness, and tries to move.

His efforts call for more oxygen than remains in the lungs.

He falls prostrate and is soon unconscious.

Immediate resuscitation is necessary now in order to save life.

Leave a garage window or door open when running auto motor.

Turn off all gas appliances in the home when sleeping.

Don't take chances—carbon monoxide gives you no chance.

Those who ride on the dictator's bandwagon don't see much of the scenery. They don't know what is passing by, because they are blindfolded by the dictator's censorship.

They can't see whether they are being driven to the right or to the left or straight over a cliff to destruction.

All they know is what the dictator tells them—the propaganda he barks at them through the megaphone of a censored press.

Even if they stop at a hot-dog stand, the dictator's passengers don't get a break. They don't get to choose what they want. They eat what the dictator tells them to, even if the hot dogs are stuffed with sawdust. They have no freedom of choice.

Sightseeing is different in America. The passengers ELECT the driver. He goes where THEY want to go, or they get another driver.

Today's activities for the Irish squad were strictly photographic. The practice field was turned over to newspaper and magazine photographers as has been done at the start of fall workouts every year since Rockne's time.

Bob Montgomery Defeats Kaplan

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Bob Montgomery, 136, dusky Philadelphia lightweight, today marked up his 10th successive victory of 1941 after smashing his way to a 10-round decision over Mike Kaplan, 143½, Boston welterweight, before 12,500 fans at Shibe Park last night.

Twice in the sixth round Montgomery caught Kaplan on the jaw with looping rights and each time the Boston fighter slumped to his knees. Although the belligerent Philadelphia threw every punch in his bag, he was unable to "put away" his groggy opponent. Between rounds, Kaplan recovered and managed to remain on his feet until the end of the bloody and bitterly fought match.

The fight was carded as "the battle of the unknown champions" because earlier this year Montgomery meted out a brutal beating to Lew Jenkins, the lightweight king, while Kaplan holds decisions over the past and present world welterweight champions.

In the semi-final bout, Harry Jeffra, 124, of Baltimore, the former bantam and featherweight titleholder, gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Tommy Forte, 119, Philadelphia.

New Castle Rifle Club Will Have Wiener And Corn Roast On Saturday Night

George Finley has been elected as president of the New Castle Rifle Club for the coming year and today he made that announcement of a wiener and corn roast for the members at the Waddington farm on the East Brook road on Saturday evening.

Merle Glitch will act as vice-president, and Mrs. Walter (Trevor) Bowers has been elected as secretary. Range officer again this year will be Walter Bowers. The assistant range officer will be Clyde Thomas.

For any particulars on the wiener roast members of the club can call either 4267-M or 6099. The Pennsylvania league season is not far away and the members are eagerly looking ahead to the many fine matches that will be shot.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

National Boxing Association has declared war on Mike Jacobs and his alleged monopoly on boxing.

President Joe Triner of Illinois called for an open war against Jacobs, and then appointed a committee headed by Abe Greene of New Jersey, and composed of past presidents of the association, to map plans for the campaign and report tomorrow.

Turning their attention to other matters, the association voted to present a gold medal annually to the outstanding fighter with all weights eligible for the honor.

As the NBA opened its 23rd annual convention, President Triner announced that California's membership was formally reported in a dispatch from J. M. Genshler, secretary of the far western commission, after a meeting of the California body in Los Angeles.

California's action in becoming a NBA member brought the association's membership to 45, of which 33 are state commissions, 5 municipal or county, and 7 commissions of foreign countries.

Honor guests at the launching of the convention included ring greats Jack Dempsey, Billy Conn and Ken Overlin.

When the fights go on next Monday night in Pittsburgh, fans will see an old-timer and his youthful protégé, namely, Jack Kearns, formerly the manager of Jack Dempsey, and Willie Poland, who stopped Harry Bobo in Baltimore.

Poland and Bobo are to fight again. According to Kearns, Poland is a knock 'em cold in a punch while Dempsey had to unfurl a flock of socks to topple them over.

Here's something the Red, White and Blue boys will appreciate. Service men will be admitted free to Carnegie Tech games with Westminster and Notre Dame. That is fine. When boys are defending you and I for $21 a month they don't have much after paying for their laundry, cigarettes, sodas, insurance, etc. The writer knows. His son is in the army.

Jefferson A. C. today made an announcement that is worthwhile. Anyone who intends to enter the military or naval service of our country may enjoy the gymnasium, free of charge. And it behooves the boys to take advantage. If they enter the service "hardened" they won't mind the basic training so much.

New Castle Hopes To Upset Butler High On Friday Night

PASS DEFENSE ALSO STRESSED

The New Castle high school football team held a lengthy practice session on Monday afternoon at Taggart stadium, with blocking and pass defense being given a lot of stress.

Butler high with a fast team will play here on Friday night. Butler last year spoiled New Castle's otherwise great 1940 record by holding New Castle to a 6-6 deadlock and thereby knocked their Class AA ambitions into the sink.

Hope For Revenge
New Castle hopes to get revenge this season and the coaches went to work on Monday to correct a few mistakes that cropped out in the opening game with Grove City.

There will not be any changes in the starting lineup it was indicated unless Ryan replaces Gunn at guard, and after the game that the Gunn played last week Ryan will have a tough time to dislodge the colored boy.

Robert Mills, ticket manager, has placed the tickets on sale at the Sporting Goods store and wants the fans to know that the ticket sale will stop at 5 o'clock sharp on Friday night.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Election day sports potpourri:—As this was being concocted, the wires flashed a story that Mrs. T. E. Nolan, among the par chasers competing in the 45th annual Women's National Golf tourney, qualified with an 88. The feat is more incredible than it sounds because the local east side links pens left the city a few days ago still pained by a back injury sustained in a fall last winter.

Joe Audino, who is fabricated according to superdreadnaught specifications, is gunning for one of Youngstown college's varsity berths. Tales trickling out of Camp Fitch, the Penguins' training den, hint strongly that Audino is a serious contender. The south scribe, following a summer of toting it in Cleveland, reported to camp weighing 201 pounds.

Joe was easily one of New Castle high's peerless linemen on the 40 undeated team. His tackle slot bore the tag—"No Throughfare." About 5 feet 8 inches in height, Audino makes up for the disadvantage with bulldozing tactics and heads-up play. To be truthful, we know that Joe's height actually barred him from matriculating in several of the more "uppity" gridiron dynasties.

In a recent interview, Robert M. Hutchins, president of Chicago university, declared that the institution is getting along well without football. So is football and particularly scorekeepers and linotype operators who had to tabulate those

Johnson Bronze Golfers Active

The Johnson Bronze golfers played off their postponed matches last evening at the Castle Hills course instead of the scheduled last Friday date. Medalist last night was Stan Buckowski with a scintzing 36 card; other low cards being Nick Mito 39, Kibish 39, Tepica 39, Hoover 39, Pezzone 41, Fraser 41.

The low-weekly ball was won by "Handsome" Sammy Bullano with a 46-18-28 card.

The results:
Mashes 2—Birdies 2
Hazards 2—Brassies 2½
Eagles 3—Pars 2
Standing of the league to date:
Birdies 13½, Hazards 13, Brassies 13, Mashes 11½, Eagles 5, Pars 2½.

The league will come to a close next week with the Hazards playing the Birdies, the Mashes and Pars tangle and the Eagles and Brassies playing.

Brass Shop Tops Babbitts 5 To 2

The Brass Shop softball team of the Johnson Bronze night turn league defeated the Babbitts yesterday 5 to 2 with Bob Pascarella, the aging veteran pitching a masterful game, allowing but five hits.

The Brass Shop boys had eight hits off of "Dink" Lane. Heavy hitting was done by Hooks, Leveelyn, and Tepica, for the cleverly coached Carl Resble team, while Davies was best for the loons.

This was the first of a three-game series for the Night Turn championship. The same two teams will play again on Wednesday morning at the Rad Field at 10 o'clock. "Ike" Metz, the manager of the Babbitt team.

Shenango High Opener Is Off

Evans City Coach Resigns; Forces Cancellation Of All Games

UNION PREPARES FOR ELLWOOD TIFF

Shenango township high officials learned Monday that the Evans City-Shenango football game, booked for Friday afternoon on Shenango field, has been postponed indefinitely.

The unexpected cancellation cropped up when Stephen Horton, Evans City coach, accepted a similar role in Kiltanning. Unable to find a mentor to replace Horton, Evans City officials called off all 1940 games.

As a result, Shenango's opening clash comes on Saturday night, September 20, at Sharpsville high.

"The cancellation gives us more time to round into condition. It will give my boys a chance to be in better shape for one of the toughest Shenango schedules in years," Coach Frank Noera declared today.

Union Drilling

Up in the Scotland Lane sector, Union township's squad is stepping up the tempo of drills in preparation for the season opener against Ellwood City high, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at Ellwood City.

Coach John Susko today said that his proteges are in good shape for the grueling test ahead. Coach Susko will make known his starting lineup tomorrow.

Mrs. T. E. Nolan In Big Tourney

Despite Back Ache, Local Woman Qualifies In Women's National Event

(Special To The News) BROOKLYN, Mass., Sept. 9.—Despite the fact that her game was hampered by a back ache, the result of an injury suffered in a fall last winter, Mrs. Thomas E. Nolan of New Castle, Pa., qualified Monday for match play in one of gold-dom's blue classics—the 45th annual Women's Golf tourney underway in Brookline.

The popular western Pennsylvania fashioned a 42 and a 46 for an 88, enough to squeeze into the charmed circle embracing 64 contestants competing for the richest title in women's golf realm.

Following a somewhat dismal start, the Lawrence Countian played four consecutive good holes, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, for a 42. A six and a seven respectively on 17 and 18 ruined an otherwise creditable performance.

The back pain, which has plagued Mrs. Nolan ever since she resumed golf, will, no doubt, play an important factor in her chance to nab the coveted coronet.

Qualifying in the national tourney is quite a success story for any woman golfer. Even if Mrs. Nolan fails to win or finish near the top, the Lawrence Countian has accomplished a feat that has escaped many top ranking feminine niblick swingers.

Mrs. Nolan's opening match is carded for today. Her opponent was not known when this was written.

Mrs. Nolan's card:
Out . . . 5 5 6 4 4 4 3 5 5—42
In . . . 4 6 4 6 4 5 4 5 7—46—88

AID FOR STRETCH

BROOKLYN—Brooklyn recently dug deep in its reserve kit and came up with Ed Albosta, right handed pitcher with Durham. Albosta was moved up to help out in the stretch drive. In the opening tiff, Ed pitched well enough to win most ball games.

VACATE CELLAR

WILKES-BARRE—After spending three seasons in rat-seller of the Eastern league, Wilkes-Barre pulled in about face winning the league championship this year.

TOUGH ON PITCHERS

Dom Dalesandro of the Cubs is tough on pitchers. Twirlers admit it is hard to get one down the alley on the Reading (Pa.) lad because he is only five feet six inches tall. High ones so over his head; low stuff into the dirt.

Answer to query: George Bradley, a Philadelphiaan, is credited with tossing the first no-hitter in the big show. Bradley, who was flung for St. Louis, uncorked the gem in 1876, the same year the National League was established. . . . Southern California will be one of the passing collegiates clubs in the nation this fall, according to coast grid espionage agents.

To Nattie: New Castle high played Peabody in football in 1927, winning 59-0. . . . To New Castle Root-er: Unable to print all grid scores. Since 1912, however, New Castle defeated Rayen two out of three; Youngstown South bowed three times, defeated New Castle twice and played a pair of deadlocks. New Castle gained two triumphs over Chaney (a spring game Chaney won not counted in regular season). Youngstown East has lost six out of seven clashes to the "Canes". Factor Girls Will Play Benefit Game At Marshall Field

Ecclesian Club Building Fund Will Benefit From Softball Game With Ohio Lassies

One of the finest and best softball attractions ever to be staged here will be played at Marshall field the afternoon of Sunday, September 21, with the Factor Variety girls playing the famous Ohio state championship Lipscher Senators of Canton.

The Factor girls will present a strong lineup composed of "Aggie" Cannonball, Rehner, who will hurl for the Factors against the champions. Kate Smith, Mary Mesall, Jerry Gail, Dora Naples, Ann Storluch, Jean Cerutti, Ara Feldkemp, Ann Factor, Pep Conwell, Irene Domenico, Irene Winters, Ross Mooney and Dorothy Allen.

The Lipscher team is now in Detroit playing for the national championship. They have been Ohio champions three years in a row.

The Ohio lassies are clever ball handlers and will play a nice game of softball. The fans will see two fine teams in action. The Factors are the Lawrence county champions.

The fans who saw the Factors play the famous Hollywood colored girl All-Stars a couple of years ago will not want to miss the game on Sunday, September 21. "Cannonball" Rehner is an attraction in herself as she plays better than lots of men, and will try hard to upset the Ohio champions.

The game, according to Joe Factor, manager and coach of the Factor team, will be played as a benefit for the Ecclesian club building fund. The Ecclesian club is planning on a fine athletic building for New Castle in the very near future.

The semi-finals in the Lawrence County daylight tennis tourney will be played tonight. Fred Daubenspeck entered the semi-finals by default from Bob Meermans, when the latter had to leave for college.

Joe Ross fought his way to the semi-finals by defeating Tommy Jones 7-5, 6-4. Ross displayed a fine brand of tennis and won despite several fine rallies made by young Jones.

Tonight Joe Ross will play Fred Daubenspeck at the Clemenore Court at 5 o'clock, and Al Jones, the defending champion plays Harry Amos at the Meers court at 4:30 o'clock.

The singles finals will be played on Wednesday night at the Meers court at 5 o'clock.

Those who have not as yet signed up for the doubles can do so anytime before Wednesday evening. Entries can be left at the Meers court on Butler avenue or at 825 Butler avenue anytime during the day or evening. It was announced by J. A. Morrow, tourney manager.

Church Golfers To Dine On Chicken

First Christian Team Will Be Honored As 1941 Champions

The New Castle Church Golf League will have its annual fall banquet at the Shenango U. P. church on Wednesday evening, September 17, at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by President Mont Magill. Upwards of 100 men will no doubt gather around the festive boards to honor the First Christian church champions.

The ladies of the Shenango church have promised the golfers a real old-fashioned chicken dinner, the kind that melts in your mouth and plenty of it.

Following the dinner there will be a short speaking program, and lots of prizes awarded to various individuals. Owing to limited space in the church basement not over 100 men can be served, and the members of the various teams are asked to contact their captains at once for ticket reservations.

CHICAGO—Johnny Humphries is a late starter. The White Sox twirler waited until August to turn in three consecutive shutouts. He didn't make his first start until July 19.

Daughter Born To Missionaries In Colombia, S. A.

"Carol Joan" is the name selected by Rev. and Mrs. Frederick A. Smith, missionaries to Colombia, South America, for their 8-pound daughter who arrived Friday morning, August 29. According to the airmail letter received Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Collins, mother and father of Mrs. Smith, the mother and daughter are doing "nicely." The Smiths have one other child, Helen Olive, who is just past two.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith have spent two and one half years in Colombia under the Christian and Missionary Alliance board doing missionary work. Two and one half years remain of their five-year term. The couple would appreciate hearing from their friends here in the home land. Mail should be addressed to Rev. or Mrs. Smith, Gigante, Huila, Colombia, South America.

Market Continues Highly Selective, Volume Expands Appreciably

(International News Service)
 NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The stock market today continued highly selective, although the combined price averages added modestly to yesterday's small gains.

Volume expanded appreciably, due to the marked activity in a handful of stocks. International Telephone was by far the most active issue on strings of sales of 1,000 shares or more. The stock moved up a half-point to a new 1941 peak of 3 1/2.

Scores of special issues ran up to new highs for the year, paced by Eastman Kodak on a report of 3 points, International Nickel half as much, and National Distillers, Allied Stores, Consolidated Aircraft, Glenn L. Martin, Boeing, American Sugar and Borden each were up fractions.

Fractional gains were shown by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, General Electric, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of N. J., American Can and Union Carbide. There were a number of laggards, including Kennecott, Sears Roebuck, DuPont, Paramount, American Tobacco "B" and N. Y. Central. U. S. Gypsum dropped a point on two sales.

U. S. Rubber, on a climb of better than a point to within striking distance of its 1941 peak, was an active feature in the second hour.

A steady stream of American ships have been carrying vital war supplies to the British forces in North Africa, but it has never before been publicly disclosed that the ships actually were entering the Red Sea.

It has been thought that the American vessels were going only as far as the Gulf of Aden.

Apart from saying that the crew is safe, Kirk's brief message gave few details of the incident. A fuller report is expected from him today.

The vessel was launched at Kearny, N. J., in 1921 and is listed in the Maritime register as carrying a crew of 36.

Kirk's first message did not disclose whether the Seafarer was loaded with supplies at the time of the attack, or whether it had discharged its cargo and was leaving the Red Sea.

Most of the recent German aerial attacks on shipping in the Red Sea have been in the northern, or Mediterranean, end. This fact might indicate that the Seafarer was in that vicinity, possibly headed for Port Said.

Survivors Picked Up
 CAIRO, Sept. 9.—A British warship picked up survivors from the American freighter Steel Seafarer, sunk in the Red Sea 200 miles south of Suez by an unidentified plane, it was officially announced in Cairo today. News of the sinking caused a sensation in Cairo.

The freighter, according to information in Cairo, was carrying arms. It is known in Cairo that German long-distance bombers have been operating nightly as far as Suez, presumably from bases on the Dodecanese Islands.

British authorities commented that any interference with American seaborne military supplies to Egypt would have far-reaching results.

Speculation as to the identity of the plane and the effect of the incident on the general international situation was widespread.

Chicago's police department recovers a cache of guns of every 10 automobiles stolen there.

More than 2,000 eyes are lost in industrial accidents each year.

there being but few candidates for the offices, compared to other years. Election boards are required to take their returns to the court house immediately after they have completed them.

Judge W. Walter Braham is sitting until after the polls close to settle any disputes that may arise. A few minor questions came up this morning. County Solicitor William J. McElwaine, Jr., is also required to be on the job all day to represent the board of elections.

County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer and County Controller Frank W. Hill will be in their offices most of the night to pay the election boards while Chief Clerk Will A. Eakin and Registrar Charles D. Ross will be in theirs to receive the returns of the boards. The polls close at 8 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Washington can't scold unions. Power development is delayed because Administration insiders are fighting for control of projects.

U. S. FREIGHTER IS SUNK IN RED SEA BY PLANE ATTACK

er attacks on American shipping on the seas is now considered highly probable.

The warning may be issued by President Roosevelt in his address to the nation on Thursday or it may take the form of an official statement by the government.

In either event the belief prevails that it will be the strongest warning yet made by this government concerning the determination of the United States to insist on freedom of the seas.

First Attack In Red Sea

Sinking of the 20-year-old Seafarer represents the first attack on an American vessel in the Red Sea since President Roosevelt lifted the ban which prevented American ships from entering that area.

German bombers have been carrying out frequent attacks on shipping in the Red Sea recently and Berlin has claimed that a number of British ships have been sunk. This led to the belief in Washington that the plane which attacked and sank the Seafarer probably was a German machine.

Germany declared the Red Sea a blockade war zone many weeks ago. However, President Roosevelt at his press conference last Friday pointed out that under international law a blockade is not recognized unless it has been made effective by the blocking power.

He was referring to the area of Iceland in which the Greer was attacked, but officials feel he will adopt the same attitude in respect to the Red Sea.

Crew Is Safe

A steady stream of American ships have been carrying vital war supplies to the British forces in North Africa, but it has never before been publicly disclosed that the ships actually were entering the Red Sea.

It has been thought that the American vessels were going only as far as the Gulf of Aden.

Apart from saying that the crew is safe, Kirk's brief message gave few details of the incident. A fuller report is expected from him today.

State Tomato Crop Increased

Largest Acreage In Past Ten Years Planted In Tomatoes

MORE EGGS ARE LAID BY HENS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Spurred by orders of the federal government, the department of agriculture reported that tomato production on Pennsylvania farms this year increased from 408,000 bushels to 504,000 bushels.

The department estimated that 2,400 acres were devoted to tomato crops this year as compared with 2,150 acres in 1940 and a previous 10-year average of 1,460 acres.

Another increase in production was noted in July when 179,000,000 eggs were laid compared with 167,000,000 eggs in the comparable month last year. The monthly number of eggs per layer also showed an increase from 147 to 151, the department reported.

However, the production in Pennsylvania is estimated at 22,784,000 bushels, based on August 1 conditions, compared with a total production last year of 24,570,000. Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light announced.

The potato acreage, according to Light, is 178,000 acres, which is a reduction of 11,000 acres below the 1940 figure. The late potato crop in the state came through the dry, hot weather of July in fairly good condition, Light explained. Some blight and tip burn was reported in a few isolated localities but vines are vigorous and stands good.

The 1940 Pennsylvania apple crop had a total value of $7,280,000.

according to report issued by Light, which lists total production of the fruit at 9,100,000 bushels. Although the production was almost 2,000,000 bushels less than 1939, the total value increased more than $1,000,000.

Of the total 1940 production, 1,409,000 bushels were used in the farm household which left the balance of 7,691,000 bushels for sale in the market.

Latest reports indicate that production this year will reach 9,730,000 bushels, which is close to the 1935 to 1939 average yield of 9,317,000 bushels.

In order not to impede the work of the court on election day, the grand jury decided to call off its work for Tuesday. On Monday the jury went to work on the list of cases presented and after returning three true bills inspected the court house property.

The true bills returned were those against Merle Davis, charged with failure to stop; Halleck Hasson, charged with aggravated assault and battery; Mrs. Clara Perry is the foreman of the jury.

Paul A. Stark, deputy sheriff in charge of the jail, set a new record on Monday. Only 11 prisoners were in the county jail, a figure that has not been seen in jail registrations for many many years. The jail can accommodate about 60, so that the 10 men in the downstairs have lots of room. In the lady's department there is but one prisoner.

It has been suggested that the jail could be rented out for a mushroom plantation, and the prisoners boarded downtown with the proceeds.

Some last-minute election appointments were made on Monday by Judge W. Walter Braham. Martha Seiple was appointed inspector of elections for the first precinct of Wilmington township, vice Sam Winger, removed.

Jennie Galena was appointed inspector of elections in the second precinct of Mahoning township, vice Esther L. Groce.

Deputy constable appointments were made as follows: B. W. De Nuccio, third of the seventh; Julian Kaczmarczyk, fourth of the seventh.

Price-Fixing Action Is Urged

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Congress was urged by Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson on Monday to speedily enact price-fixing legislation to "prevent runaway inflation."

Participating with Donald M. Nelson, executive director of the new supply priorities and allocations board in a radio forum, Henderson warned that commodity prices already have begun to skyrocket and added:

"There is still more trouble ahead, because retail prices are just beginning to reflect increases in wholesale prices which took place in recent months."

Nelson also warned of the danger of inflation with an aftermath of general collapse in agriculture and business, saying:

"I believe we have a good chance of escaping such a disastrous collapse if Congress provides the power needed to put ceilings over prices." Henderson said that since the first of this year the average price of basic raw materials has moved up more than 25 per cent, wholesale prices have gained around 11 per cent and the cost of living shows an average gain of almost 5 per cent.

He said that if the government was given the powers provided in the Glass-Steagall price-fixing bill, which has been before Congress since Aug. 1, "I am reasonably confident that we could do an effective job in protecting business, farmers, labor and the public generally from the disastrous effects of runaway inflation."

Valley Forge Delay Is 'Only Precaution'

Louis R. Berkheimer, Jr., of 305 Hazelroft avenue, who planned to return today to Valley Forge Military academy, Wayne, Pa., was notified at noon Monday to delay his return because of the infantile paralysis situation.

Berkheimer, honored by his selection for piebete detail, was returning ahead of his classmates, but the new order postpones the return until September 16. He will be a third year classman at Valley Forge this year.

There is no polio-militis at Wayne, it is said, but academy authorities delayed resumption of activities as a precautionary measure.

RED CROSS AIDS IN WISCONSIN FLOODS

Five disaster relief workers from the midwestern area office of the American Red Cross were sent to northern Wisconsin over the Labor Day holiday to direct relief measures for the several hundred families flooded out of their homes by the rising Wisconsin river and tributaries, it was announced here today.

Red Cross representatives sent into the disaster stricken communities were Mrs. Katherine B. Monroe, Marvin D. Tyson, Raymond H. Barrows and Miss Ann McMechen.

Chapters in all counties, in the meantime, had been authorized to meet needs of the stricken families for shelter, food, clothing and medical care.

Council Ponders "War" Situation

No Answer As Yet Given In Request For Half Of Salary Of Employee In Navy

Council is trying to solve the question as to whether the United States is at war or contemplates war, but to date has not given the answer and indications are the council may not for some time.

Monday in council meeting in city hall Councilman Joe Alexander asked council to make a decision relative to the appeal of Mrs. Dent Shields wife of the police sergeant, who is an underseas sound radio operator on the Greer U. S. destroyer, for one-half of his salary, in accordance with an act of assembly, passed in 1917.

The law provides that one-half a municipal officer's salary be paid if council decides that the country is at war or contemplates war. The officer must name his dependents. No decision was given and it is likely that prior to a decision the council will await a written claim from Shields setting forth the fact that he has dependents and they are entitled to the compensation.

The Greer recently was attacked by a German U-boat between Iceland and Greenland and the U. S. navy is searching for the submarine with orders from President Franklin D. Roosevelt to "eliminate."
